

AWESOME ALIA

Alia Atkinson won her first gold medal at a European meet Saturday night at the 48th Sette Colli International Open Swimming Trophy Meet.

The two-time Jamaican Olympian won the 50-meter breaststroke in a career-best 31.06, moving her into seventh place in the world rankings, her highest career ranking.

Less than 24 hours after breaking 1:10 in the 100-meter breaststroke for the first time in her career with a best time of 1:09.91, the South Florida Aquatic Club (SOFLO) swimmer came back to top an international field in Rome.

SOFLO is the only United States team competing in the three-day meet that concludes on Sunday.

Atkinson, 22, was seeded first in the 50m event after the morning prelims in 31.54 ahead of Germany's Sarah Poewe (31.88) and Dorothea Brandt (31.91).

In the finals, Brandt was second in 31.68 and Natasha Waitzer was third in 31.69.

Atkinson's previous career-best was 31.95.

The Jamaica Sports Woman of the Year runner-up has won her share of medals and broken meet records at the Central American and Caribbean Games and other meets and won a NCAA title her senior year at Texas A&M, but never won a gold medal overseas.

Alia Atkinson of the South Florida Aquatic Club won her second medal on the final day of the 48th Sette Colli International Open Swimming Trophy Meet in Rome, Italy.

Atkinson, 22, seeded eighth going into the 200-meter breaststroke, turned it on in the final 50 meters of the championship final to take the bronze medal.

The two-time Jamaican Olympian out-touched Finland's Jenna Laukkanen, 2:29.57 to 2:29.89 for third place. She had qualified eighth in morning prelims in 2:33.03. Her career-best is 2:29.53

Atkinson, ranked seventh in the world, also won a gold medal in the 50-meter breaststroke.

During the three-day meet, Atkinson also turned in two career-best times in the 50-meter breaststroke in 31.06 and 100-meter breaststroke in 1:09.91, the first time she cracked 1:10.
